Joseph Whitlock, Ph.D., CSP, CHMM, CRMA, CIH | Certified Industrial Hygienist

Join us this month as Joseph Whitlock, Ph.D., CSP, CHMM, CRMA, CIH, Certified Industrial Hygienist discusses how businesses can identify risks and solve problems coming out of the 2020 COVID-19 pandemic.

Joseph has plant, regional, and corporate EHS experience for Fortune-100 Corporations in Environmental, Occupational Health & Safety, and Industrial Hygiene services. He has more than 25 years of experience in manufacturing, construction, higher education and research, healthcare, utilities, water and wastewater, retail stores, warehousing & distribution, and the food industry.

He helps businesses identify risks and solve problems. He conducts field and site investigations for commercial, industrial, and residential properties to determine damages and conditions for employees, customers, and occupants. His expertise is helping organizations improve their overall operations while targeting EHS performance through risk reduction and mitigation techniques. Joseph directs organizations on how to improve their injury and incident rates, worker's compensation claims, and overall employee engagement.
